

Virtual Desktops

Tired of being tied to the hardware in your office? With our Virtual Desktop platform, you can say goodbye to the network in your office, and have all of your technology delivered to you over the Internet. Specifically, we'll provide you with:

- Freedom to Work From Anywhere. Wherever there's internet access there's productivity; you'll get the exact same highly-productive work experience from any location.
- Freedom From Hardware. No more servers to maintain or upgrade, and no desktop computers to worry about. We also include a managed, high-availability firewall for your protection.
- A Unified Team. No matter where your teammates are located, our collaboration tools will allow you to keep in touch instantly, and share files safely and efficiently.
- Minimal Risk and Responsibility. Since you're essentially renting your computer experience, we as your "landlords" will assume all risk of hardware failure, and will handle all upgrades.
